INFORMATIVE BROCHURE

Meet the student association shaping the technology scene at EUR since 2015.

ABOUT US

Turing Students Rotterdam (TSR) is a non-profit association focused on providing value to tech-minded students.

We are the only student association offering coding and data courses covering Python, R, SQL, Data Science, Machine Learning, and much more, giving students the opportunity to dive into these fields and build essential skills for the future.

We support EUR students on their professional journey by organising career & networking events such as workshops, talks, and in-house days with industry leaders, providing valuable insights and networking opportunities.

We organise social technology-oriented events that empower students to explore and deepen their interests across diverse technology fields. We strive to have our events act as a dynamic platform to connect, learn, and grow.
